Ohio River Near Crest Of Flood At Cincinnati

River Stage Of 64.5 Feet Indicated—Flood Stage Is 52 Feet.

HUGE FORCE BATTLES TO AVERT DAMAGE

CINCINNATI, April 17.—(INS)—The surging Ohio river is expected to crest at Cincinnati today as army troops and volunteers continued to fight a grim battle against swirling backwaters around Newport, Ky.

Weather Forecaster George Mart predicted the crest would reach 64.5 feet. Flood stage is 52 feet. Thirteen feet over flood stage. The river hit 63.7 feet at Portsmouth last night, more than 13 feet above flood stage, and rolled on toward the Queen City, some 75 miles downstream. The Portsmouth flood wall had been sand-bagged to 66 feet.

Two deaths due to the flood were reported by the Ohio State highway patrol. They identified the victims as Mary Jane Burnett, 16, and Wanda Mowery, 17, who fell from a boat at Friendship, nine miles downstream from Portsmouth.

Across the river from Cincinnati, 600 army engineer troops from Ft. Knox and Camp Campbell battled with 2,000 to 3,000 civilian volunteers to contain the licking river at Newport.

Sandbags were piled to protect a 40-block area from the muddy waters which already have flooded six blocks with six feet of water. About 1,000 homes are threatened in the 40 blocks.

Crests At 65 Feet
The licking crest yesterday at 65 feet but it was feared that the Ohio might back up and cause additional danger as the high waters reached Cincinnati.

The two bridges across the Ohio between Cincinnati and Kentucky were closed last night to all but emergency traffic. Other roads in the Queen City area also were blocked as the crest approached.

A 42-foot crest is due tomorrow at Louisville, Ky., where the Ohio

Pa New Observes

The good people of New Castle have again responded to a very worthy venture—the big Booster Club testimonial banquet at the Cathedral Wednesday, April 21, with indications that upwards of 700 will attend, to honor the New Castle "Chiefs" of the Mid-Atlantic League.

Weather conditions underwent a change during the night. After mid-summer temperatures during Friday, thermometers recorded around 30 degrees early this morning.

Workers who were installing the large cross on the Central Presbyterian church on the Diamond, Friday, were drawing their share of interested spectators. The cross is to be illuminated and lighted during the evening hours.

A lone plane flying over the city at about 9:30 o'clock Friday evening, seemed to be in distress. Night flying from the New Castle airport which proved popular last summer, has not begun in earnest yet it is reported.

The rainy weather of the past week has caused local lawns to grow at a rapid rate. Some homeowners have already had their lawnmowers out for a second round to keep the fast growing grass neat looking.

Sampson street residents are wondering what has happened to the move to bring the city buses part way out Sampson street for the convenience of the great number of residents living in that area. No tangible action has been taken on the move for some months now.

Senate Slows Rush On Huge Air Force Plans

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS)—A senate "stop, look and listen" flag went up today on the house program to rush through legislation expanding the air force and army well beyond Defense Secretary Forrestal's recommendations.

Sensors who must tackle the defense problem next week indicated they want to make a more thorough study—particularly as to the impact of defense spending upon the domestic economy—than was given by the house.

To Meet Monday
The senate appropriations committee planned to meet Monday to consider the three billion 198 million dollar appropriation voted by the house to launch new plane building. The money is to provide plans for a 70-group air force, as well as modernize naval aviation.

The senate armed services committee also was expected to receive Forrestal's revised estimate of the effect of a 70-group program will have on all branches of the armed forces.

Meantime, house air power advocates announced their support for boosting the army's strength to

U. N. Votes For Military Truce In Holy Land

Supreme Effort Being Made To Halt Violence And Bloodshed In Palestine

POLITICAL ACTIVITY HALT ALSO ASKED
By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 17.—The United Nations Security Council launched a supreme effort today against heavy odds to halt violence and bloodshed in Palestine by voting unanimously for a military truce in the Holy Land.

The security council overrode the opposition of both Russia and the Ukraine, as well as that of the Jewish agency, to approve also a political standstill in Palestine.

But the 11-nation body in a vote taken just before adjournment, defeated the establishment of a "watch-dog" commission to supervise the observance of the truce by the Arab and Jewish factions.

More Soft Coal Miners Return

PITTSBURGH, April 17.—(INS)—Soft coal miners today returned to work at 12 more mines in western Pennsylvania, bringing to 65 the total operating in the area.

Production in the district was still below 40 per cent, however, as a large percentage of the miners remained out pending disposition of the contempt of court charges against United Workers Chief John L. Lewis and the union.

West Virginia reported almost normal operations with 105,000 of the state's 110,000 miners back in the pits. By contrast, Ohio had only 600 out of 16,000 working.

Kentucky and Tennessee were also still showing resistance to the back to work movement, while the west and midwest reported conditions nearer normal.

New President Assumes Office In Philippines

MANILA, April 17.—(INS)—Elpidio Quirino took the oath of office today as president of the Philippine republic in a solemn ceremony at the presidential Malacanang palace in Manila.

Acting Chief Justice Ricardo Paras administered the oath to the former vice president in a room a few doors removed from the palace reception hall in which hundreds of grieving Filipino citizens were paying their last respects to the late President Manuel Roxas.

In a brief talk to high ranking officials who witnessed the ceremony, President Quirino appealed for "more tolerance, more good will and more love" in the conduct of Philippine affairs.

His first official act was to proclaim the period from today thru May 17 as one of national mourning for the dead president.

Quirino, who was making an official tour of southern islands when word of the president's death reached him, returned to Manila early this morning aboard the coast guard cutter Anemone.

Piece Of Twine Delays Airplane

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—(INS)—A spokesman for the American Airlines reported today that the company's St. Louis-to-Chicago flight yesterday was delayed by a piece of twine.

Approximately 100 feet of string, apparently from a boy's kite, became entangled in one propeller as the plane started down a runway to take off.

It took a mechanic fifteen minutes to remove the twine. The string apparently was lying on the runway and was sucked up by the propeller as the plane ran over it.

Martin Would Talk To Stalin

House Speaker Willing To Sit Down And Talk Over World Problems

NEW YORK, April 17.—(INS)—Speaker of the House Joseph P. Martin, Jr., placed himself on record today as willing to sit down with Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin and talk over a peaceful settlement of the world's problems.

The Massachusetts Republican, in a New York address, last night referred to his recent intervention in the coal strike, declaring:

"There come those times when to procure understanding and peace a sincere effort to bring about peace must be made.

"Such an effort must be made, even though under the present administration crises, emergencies and hysteria are always the rule."

"I would talk with Joe Stalin if I could end the mad rush toward war and prevent a conflagration which would destroy civilization."

Frost Reported Here Early Today

Temperature Drops To 27 Degrees In Early Morning Hours, Following Summer-Like Day

Another of those strange quirks in the weather was noted today, when the temperature dropped down to 27 degrees early this morning, after a summer-like day which saw the thermometer climb to 73 degrees. Early last evening, it turned colder and the temperature dropped 46 degrees from yesterday's high.

Although a great deal of early fruit is now in blossom, it is not believed any serious damage resulted, as there was a light breeze going this morning and the temperature did not stay down at the bottom mark long.

Danger of another frost is indicated by the weather report which predicts temperatures of around the freezing point during the night.

British Train Crash Kills 21

LONDON, April 17.—(INS)—Twenty-one persons were killed and 29 were injured today when the crack London-Glasgow express train was hit by a Scotland-London mail train near Winsford.

Amidst a scene of confusion, ambulances and physicians rushed to the scene of the crash from a far away as Manchester, twenty miles north, to aid the injured. Many died later in hospitals.

Russia Demands Halt Of Commercial Airline Use Of Austria Airfield

VIENNA, April 17.—(INS)—British occupation officials in Austria said today that the Russians have demanded a halt to commercial airline use of the Schwechat Airfield near Vienna.

The British corrected an earlier announcement that the Russians had demanded an end to civilian airplane flights. The announcement, they said, resulted from a translator's error.

A similar Russian demand on American military headquarters, which would bar Pan-American Airways from Austria, also is expected.

Meanwhile, Soviet Guard permitted British civilians who landed at Schwechat yesterday to pass a Soviet roadblock without the "gray" military identification cards they had previously demanded. A British European Airways flight also took off on schedule this morning.

The British said that a letter from Col. Gen. V. L. Kurasov called on them to "cease violation" of the 1945 agreement allowing only military planes to use the Schwechat Airfield.

Hill Continues To Slide Toward Allegheny River

Glacier-Like Trek Of Hill In Pittsburgh Area Shows No Slowing Up

PITTSBURGH, April 17.—(INS)—The 600-foot "walking hill" overlooking the Allegheny River, near the Nadine pumping station, today continued its glacier-like trek toward the river.

Weighing hundreds of thousands of tons and covering some 300,000 square feet, the hill started moving Wednesday following heavy rains.

The slide has doomed two houses and endangered a third. A large section of the Allegheny River Boulevard, already beginning to crack and buckle, and the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, running alongside the river are threatened.

Emergency Work Done
As the hill moves relentlessly forward at the rate of one inch per hour, emergency crews worked through the night removing electric and telephone cables.

Authorities said the "slide plane" was below the surface of the boulevard and the railroad

British Train Crash Kills 21

LONDON, April 17.—(INS)—Twenty-one persons were killed and 29 were injured today when the crack London-Glasgow express train was hit by a Scotland-London mail train near Winsford.

Amidst a scene of confusion, ambulances and physicians rushed to the scene of the crash from a far away as Manchester, twenty miles north, to aid the injured. Many died later in hospitals.

Seven coaches of the passenger express were wrecked in the collision. Police and firemen worked desperately in the darkness to extricate the living and the dead buried under the debris.

The main rail lines between London and Scotland still were blocked hours after the crash as investigators sought to determine the cause.

Italians Will Make Decision On Communism

Huge Force Of Police And Soldiers To Be On Guard At Election

FORECASTERS SEE DEFEAT OF REDS

BULLETIN
ROME, April 17.—(INS)—Police wielding clubs broke up an attempted Communist rally in Rome today but the nation as a whole was calm on the eve of its crucial national election.

The Red propagandists called the meeting in violation of a law pledging all parties to refrain from demonstrations as of midnight.

This was agreed upon to provide a "breathing spell" for the electorate before the people go to the polls tomorrow morning.

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, April 17.—Italy's voters prepared today to choose between communism and democracy in tomorrow's crucial elections, amid indications that a decisive majority will repudiate communism.

These indications came from admissions by the Communists themselves, as well as the confident predictions of government leaders.

The government meanwhile kept some 350,000 police and troops under arms and on the alert for possible Communist attempts to influence the course of voting by last-minute violence. However, there was little fear that Communists would attempt a coup before the election results are known.

Campaigning Over
With the campaigning officially over, the electorate took the day for last-minute private discussions and reviews of the campaign's highlights before making final decisions.

Still ringing in the ears of voters were last-minute declarations by Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti. All election propaganda, leaflet distribution, and other forms of electioneering were banned from midnight last night by agreement of all parties in order to give the voters a breathing spell.

Charges And Counter Charges
But still close to the deadline, the campaign—possibly the most important in the history of Italy—produced charges and counter-charges.

De Gasperi told a Naples election rally that the Communists never mention that "countries armed to the teeth are poised on Italy's

Best Is Awaiting Treason Sentence

Conviction of treason carries a penalty ranging from death to five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. Best already is planning an appeal.

Arthur Mometer

Don't order any pork chops, forget the T-bone steak, and pass up fillet mignons, the budget gets a break. He says he's going fishing, don't know just whereabout, but I would think for dinner we should have a mess of trout. My mouth is sort of drooling, my appetite is right, all set to munch a plate of trout at dinner time tonight. And if he doesn't catch some, or if the trout are nil, bring on some nice green lettuce heads, the stuff that's meant to fill. But if the trout are biting, then let yourself go free, and pan the trout and salt them down, the weather's fifty-three.

Found Guilty Of Soliciting Man To Commit Murder

St. Louis Salesman Charged With Offering $3,000 To Have Former Wife Killed

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—(INS)—Chester B. Winkler, 47-year-old St. Louis salesman, faced a term in the city workhouse today after he was convicted of "soliciting another to commit a murder."

Winkler was accused of offering $3,000 to have his former wife killed. He denied the charge.

Detective Corporal James Ogden was the chief witness at Winkler's trial. Ogden testified Winkler made the offer to him last Christmas eve while Ogden posed as an underworld character.

Mrs. Winkler and her husband were still married at the time. Mrs. Winkler filed suit for divorce five days after Winkler was arrested, and the divorce was granted last January.

Winkler was found guilty by Judge Louis Comerford of the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday.

Judge Comerford deferred sentence and gave defense counsel 30 days in which to file a motion for a new trial. Judge Comerford said Winkler faced a maximum of sixty days in the workhouse and a $100 fine. The charge on which Winkler was convicted is a misdemeanor.

delegates as well, scored a record by running from 9:30 p. m. Friday to 2:20 a. m. Saturday morning.

The 11 members of the security council discussed each provision of the truce formula as drawn up in private sessions early this week.

They listened to the opinions of the Jewish agency and the Arab higher committee before taking any vote. This was an obvious effort to forestall any ignoring of the military and political standstill by the warring factions concerned.

The council underlined its cease-fire order by unanimously calling on all persons and organizations in Palestine to "cease all activities of a military nature, as well as acts of violence, terrorism and sabotage."

The provision requesting a political standstill asked all parties concerned in the Holy Land matter to refrain from any further political activity which might prejudice the rights, claims or positions of either the Jews or Arabs.

Girl Shot To Death On Crowded Car In Los Angeles

LON ANGELES, April 17.—(INS)—A young Negro was held on suspicion of murder today after shooting his white girl companion in a crowded downtown streetcar last night, throwing passengers into a near panic.

Police said Sylvester Black, 34, boarded the trolley with Beatrice Imogene Thompson, 23. Passengers said after a few blocks both began arguing. At one point, Miss Thompson was heard to say:

"Why don't you let me alone?"

As she attempted to get out of the seat, police said, Black stepped out in the aisle, drew a .38 revolver and fired three shots. One struck Miss Thompson in the head killing her instantly.

A merchant patrolman, James Patrick, 30, riding on the streetcar, disarmed Black. Police quoted Black as saying:

"Beatrice and I have been going together for a long time."

Togliatti told a Rome election rally that a Communist victory would bring bread and peace to Italy. A triumph of the government parties, he declared, would lead to inclusion of Italy in the "western war bloc."

Communists See Defeat?

A hint that the Communist-sponsored people's front recognizes that defeat is in store for it came in Togliatti's declaration that he will work with the Christian democrats if they will accept the people's front social reforms.

The government parties, on the other hand continued to stand on their refusal to work with the Communists. Interior Minister Mario Scelba told Rome's largest political rally since Fascist days that the government coalition is determined to bar the way to communism after the elections.

To Ask More Funds

And there were reliable reports that the air force, its 70-group plane program virtually assured, planned to ask an additional 600 million, not one billion dollars for the personnel, pay, clothing and other items the expansion would require.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, told the house armed services committee the army should have 837,000 men if the air force is expanded to 70 groups.

Rep. Johnson (D) Tex., forecast that the house committee, after winding up hearings on the draft-mobilization bill, would report out a bill providing the expanded army next week. Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., former chairman of the old naval affairs committee, said the measure probably could not be completed until the following week.

OUR ECONOMY IS TRIANGULAR, EACH SIDE HELPS THE OTHERS

A smooth running national economy is a triangular structure. The base can be called Production, one of the sides is Consumption and the other is Distribution. Unless all three sides are strong, the other two are weakened.

Motor truck transportation has become an important part of our distribution program. So vitally important to the other two sides of the triangle that to weaken it is to weaken the entire structure.

The paper you read, the clothes you wear, the food you eat, all of them have been hauled by a motor truck at some time. Let's keep the entire structure strong.

SENATE SLOWS RUSH ON HUGE AIR FORCE PLANS

837,000 men—295,000 above present strength and 55,000 above Forrestal's original recommendation.

To Ask More Funds

And there were reliable reports that the air force, its 70-group plane program virtually assured, planned to ask an additional 600 million, not one billion dollars for the personnel, pay, clothing and other items the expansion would require.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, told the house armed services committee the army should have 837,000 men if the air force is expanded to 70 groups.

Rep. Johnson (D) Tex., forecast that the house committee, after winding up hearings on the draft-mobilization bill, would report out a bill providing the expanded army next week. Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., former chairman of the old naval affairs committee, said the measure probably could not be completed until the following week.

City firemen were called to the New Castle Refractories Company by an alarm from Box 712, at 8:15 p. m. Friday, but found that the alarm was a false one, no fire being found in the vicinity.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The Soviet conception of a free press as one whose columns are wide open for summary denunciation of any individual was brought into the open today by charges leveled against Robert Magdoff.

This correspondent, well-known to newspaper and radio people, was accused by his own former secretary of espionage, presumably on the basis of a letter of inquiry from an employer which she found in his files.

Ordered To Leave

As a result Magdoff, who is a naturalized American citizen born in Russia, was informed summarily that he must leave the Soviet Union.

There is no indication that he will be permitted to enter a defense or that he desires to do so. As a correspondent with many years of active news work and experience in Moscow, he probably realizes the futility of such action once Izvestia has published a denunciation.

In defending the Soviet press system, Andrei Vishinsky and Andrei Gromyko have made much of the fact that any one who is not up to Communist doctrinaire standards is wide open to attack.

Direct Off-Shoot

Neither, however, have mentioned the fact that this system is a direct twentieth-century offshoot of perhaps the greatest evil that ever scourged France in her troubled history—the so-called "Lettre de Cachet."

Originally, this was a royal warrant of arrest.

The kings of France had as their sovereign right the privilege of demanding the arrest of anyone suspected of treason. The letters demanded only his signature and his "cachet"—the royal seal.

Historians generally are agreed that this autocratic system protected the throne and was an instrument of stability for a time.

Abuses Come Quickly

But abuses were not long in coming. First the privilege was appropriated by other members of royalty beside the king. Then cabinet officers, sometimes without royal knowledge, began using the letters.

Police officials followed suit and as the grand idea finally percolated down to the populace, it even became the practice for an individual to get rid of an unwelcome "in-law" merely by obtaining a simple letter.

The present-day Soviet system of denunciation dates back to the

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Once again I must disagree with a psychologist.

A reader asked a psychologist who runs a newspaper column "Does a healthy-minded person like work?"

The psychologist answered: "Not for its own sake. The natural impulse of healthy persons is to follow the rule of 'economy of effort'—that is to achieve each goal he seeks with the least possible expenditure of time and labor. . . . But because we all have an insatiable craving to enjoy life . . . the more easily a normal person gets one job done, the sooner he will begin another."

There was more to his answer, but it all meant about the same—that the average person does not like work but works only because he wants to be able to enjoy life.

If this psychologist were correct this would indeed be a sad and sorry world.

I dislike of work, and work only for material reasons, were the normal thing there would be no creative work at all. If money and material things were the sole incentive, then we might as well throw all our ideals overboard and just become rank money grubbers and clock-watchers.

Certainly some work is monotonous.

Certainly there are lots of people who have no creative urge, no idealistic concepts of life.

Certainly there are many people—and perhaps they are in the majority—to whom living means nothing but eating, sleeping, procreating and having a little fun, such as dancing, seeing the movies and looking at the comic pages of their newspapers.

But wait a minute.

Did I say dancing, seeing the movies and looking at the comic pages?

Who do you think composes the dance music?

Who produces the movies and acts in them?

Who draws the comic strips and writes the stories they tell?

Idealists! Men and women who love their work.

Oh, sure I know what you are going to say.

They get plenty of money for their work.

Of course they do, because their work makes plenty of money for others.

But remember that every artist, every actor, every writer worked

Jobs Upon A Time

Alfred Lunt and his wife, Lynn Fontanne, are the most delightfully sophisticated team of actors on the United States stage. Alfred Lunt was born in Milwaukee, Wis., and studied at Harvard university. His first appearance on the stage was at the Castle Square theater, Boston, in 1913, playing in "The Gingerbread Man," at 10 years of age.

Lynn Fontanne is a Londoner and made her first appearance on the stage at the Drury Lane theater in a "walk on" in pantomime. She toured with a company after that; then played at the Garrick theater. Her first appearance in the United States was a tour in 1912 and 1913, then Lynn went back to England for a number of years, coming to the United States the second time in 1916.

Nothing in comparison with the suffering many other children must endure. As a rule, each divorced parent and their parents' relatives tug at the poor child's heartstrings to win his show of affection and to fill him with hate of the other parent. Then, if often is the case, one parent, usually the father, is allowed to see the child at the mother's home or away from it during a week-end or less often, this parent and his relatives pull harder at the precious heartstrings of the child.

It seems to me that the parent who loses custody of the child for most of the time could best prove his genuine love for that child by doing his utmost to help the child forget about him.

Consider Child

Parents who look ahead and give first consideration to the child try harder than many parents do to prevent or correct in themselves what they know endangers their happiness in marriage or might lead eventually to divorce. Of course, there are two parents. No one parent alone may be able to solve all marital problems.

Anyway, all this talk about feeling of security in the child should quiet ignoring father-mother relationships. How can the child have emotional security whose parents don't have it with each other?

Yes friends . . . it looks from here like the baseball fans will have a real time next Wednesday evening. So if you don't have a ticket . . . you still have tonight to make your reservations . . . and in case something happens you don't secure your ticket tonight . . . just call Robert Mills, chairman of tickets . . . his phone is 3631-R.

Now for business of today . . . to help you keep that girlish figure . . . have you noticed that the grass is growing high . . . yes, you get the idea . . . it's time to dust off the lawn mower. With a few bright warm days things around the yard will be just bursting with beauty . . . so have fun.

Airmail Subsidies Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON, April 17.—New nominations keep coming in for the Oscar for the year's most high-powered lobbying. With reinforcements swelling the ranks of the pressure boys from day to day in this era of bigger and better lobbies, the judges have an almost impossible task.

Claim to the honor is being pressed in behalf of the big five airlines that carry most of the country's mail and passenger traffic. And it's an impressive claim.

The Civil Aeronautics Board just awarded the big five—American, Eastern, TWA, United and Northwest—an increase in mail pay which will cost the taxpayer at least an additional $5,000,000 over and above the $21,000,000 they now get.

The increase is proposed although Eastern Airlines will show a rate of profit computed by CAB at 36 percent after taxes, and the other four companies will average a 10 percent return.

May Launch Probe

There is a report that Sen. Homer Ferguson and Sen. Styles Bridges are getting interested in an investigation into the whole mail-subsidy system. Such an investigation occurred not long after the Democrats came into power in 1933. It produced some sizzling facts about the power of the lobbies working for ocean and air mail subsidies and the tactics they employed.

Figuring out the actual cost of carrying the air mail, in relation to the subsidy payments, is something the CAB has never got around to doing. The question of cost, particularly when the airlines talk about it, is surrounded by such clouds of statistics, qualifications and reservations that the ordinary person is left in a state of confusion.

Significant Contrast

But here is a significant contrast. With the new pay increase included, the CAB finds that the big five must get 58 cents a ton mile as a "service rate" for carrying the mail. At the same time, the big five have applied for, and CAB has approved, rates for carrying cargo as low as 12½ cents a ton mile.

Since the air mail is business which does not have to be solicited and since the ground handling is performed by the government, it is extraordinary that CAB should find that carrying the mail costs almost five times as much as carrying cargo.

Put another fact alongside this. Ambitious young veterans have formed a number of air freight lines. For two years these small companies have waited for CAB to act on their applications to operate chartered routes. Thus far not a single application has been granted. Some of the little companies have had to fold up, a fact which one of the big five executives noted with smug self-satisfaction not long ago.

Cargo Planes Lag

This is true even though cargo traffic and the development of cargo planes have lagged far behind both economic and military necessities. Every politician professes to be for little business and competition. Yet these veterans' airlines have not been given a chance to show what they could do toward developing the great potential of air cargo traffic.

One of the few experts to interest himself in this phase is Langdon P. Marvin, Jr. During his wartime service with the navy, Marvin was chairman of the Air Cargo Priorities Committee, learning by actual experience in every corner of the globe how vital cargo could be carried by air. To

The closest we came to three men on a piano was the WPA production of three men on a shovel . . . One to load, one to lean and one to look.

I'm working now on a successor to "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" to be called "I'm Looking Into a Three-Ball Pawnshop That I Overlooked Before."

LET'S SCRUTINIZE A BIT

In this materially blessed country we have grown so used to a two hundred and sixty billion dollar debt, to forty-eight billion dollar budgets submitted by the executive and to tax assessments running into more and more billions, that we have lost all sense of proportion. (Any civic organization or luncheon club looking for a thrill can find it by delegating some member to find out how long it takes to count to a billion.)

Even before the war, or any definitely indicated prospects of war, the New Deal administration had spent many billions of dollars for unsuccessful pump-priming. The depression, of course, was lifted only when the Second World War blossomed in Europe, with our factories and farms supplying materials to both the Allies and at least one member of the Axis.

The war, as everybody knows, not only brought us out of the hole financially, but provided us with an extravagant boom. As a small result of the war, today still finds us with a minimum of unemployment and about six million workers enjoying the highest wages ever known. But there is no intelligent person in the United States, employer or employee, who fails to recognize that the present situation is almost wholly artificial. Its basis is inflation. Employers and employees together have helped to create this inflation.

About ninety per cent of the products of war, blown away, lost or given away, were the work of labor's hands. They are, economically, almost a total loss. The materials are gone—and the wages are

Justice Douglas And His Boomers

WASHINGTON, April 17.—THE probable result of the current boom for Supreme Court Justice W. O. Douglas as the Democratic presidential nominee easily may be to make his sponsors and promoters ridiculous without gaining this not overly modest person off the high bench upon which some citizens think he should never have been placed.

OF course, the movement to nominate Mr. Douglas comes from the little clique of far to the left Roosevelt "liberals," of which he was one before he was appointed and with whom he has kept in close touch since. This is the faction which is so desperately trying to ditch Mr. Truman and the reasons it is building up Mr. Douglas while still shouting for General Eisenhower are entirely clear. In the first place, the obvious fact has pretty well sunk in that unless they find someone other than General Eisenhower around whom to rally they are likely to find themselves in a most uncomfortable fix, indeed. For, most reasonably informed men are now convinced that under no circumstances will the General lend himself to any such transparent hocus pocus as is involved in this project to "draft" him in a Democratic Convention.

MOREOVER, if they go much farther along present lines he is going to tell them so in no uncertain terms. At least that is the conviction of intimates who best know the way Dr. Eisenhower feels on this subject. In particular, they report that though he does not want to make another statement, more talk such as recently emanated from the ebullient Mr. Chester Bowles is likely to bring an outburst from the doctor which they will not like at all. A few days ago this Mr. Bowles, whose virtues were much overadvertised when he was here as price administrator, somewhat pompously declared that if it developed that Dr. Eisenhower's views on economic, social and political matters are "satisfactorily liberal and progressive," then he should be drafted. The patronizing language in which this great thought was clothed certainly irritated Dr. Eisenhower's friends and there is reason to believe did not go down well with the doctor himself.

AT any rate, even some of the most enthusiastic journalistic supporters of the "Down the Drain" with Truman effort, are weakening on the Eisenhower idea—first, because they know he can't be had; second, because they know he isn't their kind of "liberal" anyhow. Once these two things are accepted, the Douglas boom was inevitable. For one thing, Mr. Douglas, always a 100 per cent New Dealer, is the ideal of the Roosevelt "liberals." For another, ever since he became a member of the Supreme Court, he has been constantly boomed for some political office, much to the annoyance of some of his colleagues who regard his acquiescence, not to say encouraging, attitude as not in tune with the highest traditions of the court.

PRIMARILY, it is said, he is the favored candidate of Mr. "Tommy" Corcoran, once Mr. Roosevelt's fair-haired boy and now "cashing in" in a big way as a Washington lawyer. There is no doubt that Mr. Corcoran and the elements which want to lynch Mr. Truman would rather have Mr. Douglas as the Democratic candidate than anyone else. Naturally, But there are two very considerable obstacles in the way of that wish. One is that nothing even resembling a plausible "draft" can be rigged for Mr. Douglas in the Democratic Convention. Southern Democrats would have even better reasons for opposing his nomination than they have for opposing Mr. Truman. And in the unlikely event of his nomination, conservative, anti-New Deal Democrats would have no alternative save support of the Republican candidate.

THE only real enthusiasm for Mr. Douglas is among the Roosevelt intimates of the aforementioned clique, including the "Roosevelt Boys" and the CIO leaders who affiliate or sympathize with this over-publicized group. In brief, Mr. Douglas's prospects of election certainly would be no better than Mr. Truman's—if as good. That quite obvious fact creates the second obstacle, which is Mr. Douglas's almost certain refusal to run. This is not because he does not wish to be President or Vice President. And not because he does not love the publicity accompanying his boom. It is because, however extreme Mr. Douglas's views may be, he is not sufficiently unbalanced to give up the security and dignity of a seat on the Supreme Court to make a run for the presidency with the odds so heavily against success. That would be feeble-minded, indeed. And that, of course, goes double for Chief Justice Vinson.

SO, the pro-Roosevelt, left-wing effort to lynch Mr. Truman seems likely to wind up with the pro-Roosevelt left-wingers in a ditch of their own digging. They have no candidate. Nor are they likely to get one who will do any better than Mr. Truman. They hate the Republicans. They hate Mr. Wallace and they hate Mr. Truman, though advocating the Truman policies. Apparently, they hate everyone except themselves. Their real hope seems to be to bring back the old Roosevelt days through one of the "Roosevelt boys"—not a very robust prospect. At the moment they occupy a rather silly position which will get more so as it becomes clearer.

The buttering of bread at a meal is not important except that bread never should be laid flat on the palm of the hand and buttered. Little hot biscuits can be buttered immediately, as they taste better so.

HEATING EXPERTS' GOAL

"Is comfort good for your health?"

This sounds like a doctor's question, but it was propounded by Prof. G. L. Tuve, of Cleveland, president of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. He put the question to fellow engineers at Denver, speaking on "Professional Air Control, 1960."

"Like medicine, surgery, law and finance," said Professor Tuve, "the heating, ventilating and air conditioning of homes, offices, factories, public buildings is far more than a mere business. It's a profession, responsible for the health, safety and welfare of human beings."

"Making people comfortable is not enough. Our real job is to keep 'em healthy. People may think they feel 'comfortable' in a hot dry, stuffy room, simply because the atmosphere lulls them into a semi-stupor. A doctor could give them an opiate to get the same result, but he wouldn't. His professional conscience wouldn't let him."

By 1960, Professor Tuve holds, engineers who work with the air people breathe indoors will have a well-developed professional conscience, too. He insists their goal should be making indoor air as fresh, clean and healthful as the outdoor air of mountains and fields—neither too hot nor too chilly, too dry or too damp.

Professor Tuve described a recent practice established in a Swedish office building. Briefly, but at frequent intervals, the rooms are flooded with fresh, clean air from out of doors, even in winter. The occupants may feel a bit chilly for a moment, but the fresh air clears their heads, peps them up. They feel better, work better and like it.

Americans have learned to be fussy about the water they drink. They should be just as particular about the air they breathe, Professor Tuve insists.

NEW DIAMOND DISCOVERY

Another miracle job has just been discovered for the diamond—that queen of jewels and king of tools. This gem is the hardest of all things on earth and one of the hardest working. It cuts other things as if they were soft butter.

Now the research engineers of Bell laboratories are using diamonds as "solid-vacuum tubes." Before long a young fellow in Salt Lake City who calls his girl in Chicago to propose by long-distance telephone will be talking through diamonds as well as about them.

This newly discovered power of diamonds to amplify "e human voice will not create a shortage of solitaires. Only waste chips from the gem-cutter's bench are used by Bell engineers. They plate a tiny flake of diamond chip with gold so it can be connected into an electric circuit—a loudspeaker circuit, for instance. Nothing happens at first, for the diamond is an insulator. It does not let any juice flow.

But the instant a beam of electrons is focused on the chip, the diamond changes from an insulator to a conductor. It lets a powerful surge of current flow through the speaker. The beam itself is a feeble thing. It could not work the speaker alone, but its gentle touch opens a magic valve. That's how vacuum tubes work.

But a diamond chip is not a vacuum. It is a dense solid, yet it does the work of a tube capable of boosting a voice-current to 500 times its original strength. It acts so fast the physicists haven't yet been able to measure the time lag. They do know it is less than one ten-millionth of a second.

Scientists are just starting to use this new "solid vacuum" amplifier. The latest issue of Bell Laboratories Record hints at gadgets not in existence now. Radio, radar, television, atomic counters, secret military instruments will use them. Of course the telephone people are happy about it. Diamond chips are smaller, lighter, much more durable than the glass bottles now used to magnify the human voice.

WARM WEATHER FIRE HAZARDS

Fire loss in this country is naturally at its peak during the winter, when heating plants are being used to the limit. But the approach of the warm season brings special and very dangerous hazards.

Many homes and businesses have been destroyed because the grass wasn't cut in adjoining vacant property and caught fire. Every community should have a suitable law in this regard and enforce it strictly and impartially.

Carelessness in burning rubbish during dry days takes its share of the toll. Such fires should never be left unattended. And some means of controlling or quenching them if they threaten to get out of hand should be immediately available.

Spring and summer will witness a tremendous increase in tourist travel through the rural areas and timbered country. Millions of acres of splendid timber have gone up in smoke, leaving nothing but an ugly, scarred landscape as a memorial, because people have thrown burning matches and cigarettes from cars, and because campers haven't made absolutely sure that their fires were out before moving on. These crimes of carelessness are covered in the law—but police and forest service officials can't be everywhere. Fire prevention, in all its many phases, is up to the individual.

When spring clean-up time comes, do a real and thorough job of it. Get rid of the junk and the refuse. A clean house and clean premises mean fire prevention.

WASHINGTON CALLING

several Congressional committees he has pointed out how urgent is the need for cargo development.

Apparent on Military Side

It is even more apparent on the military side. Military sources have estimated that 4,000 cargo planes would be essential at the outset of a war in which the new-type German submarines would be used in large numbers. The certified airlines at present have fewer than 70 such planes.

It is not so much that the airlines are operating at a high ratio of cost to the government. What is serious is that, so long as the cushion of the subsidy is there, the nation is not likely to get the kind of expansion which is vital to national security both at home and abroad.

A thorough going Senate investigation would look into the foreign field, too. Post office records show that Pan-American Airways got $16,656,624 in mail pay last year and is petitioning CAB for $11,000,000 more.

In Joseph J. O'Connell, Jr., the CAB has a new chairman. A new member is still to be appointed. There is a chance to break away from the course of least resistance, which is increasingly to give everything to a few dominant companies. It will not be easy to change the pattern. But there is still time if there is also the will to make the change.

LOOKING AT LIFE

for very little before he came into the big money.

Some of them thought they'd never make the grade. But they worked and slaved and, above all, they dreamed.

They dreamed not of money but of the joy of creating brain children that would live and give pleasure to others.

There are hundreds of scientists who love their work and never think of any "craving to enjoy life." Their work is their life. Their accomplishment is their enjoyment. They do what they do because their work is part of themselves and because, with all the money in the world at their disposal, they would be miserable without their work.

If you work only to have the material things of life, then you are indeed a pauper even if you have millions in the bank.

You must have money of course to be comfortable and to be able to buy the things to which every human being is entitled. You must be able to save for security.

But if your job is only a pay check to you, then you had better change your job—or your outlook on life.

mostly spent. So what we have now is the problem of supplying normal and legitimate human needs at the same price ratio that we paid for the means of human destruction.

Nobody seems to know definitely our essential requirements for military security, offense and defense. But the time certainly is here when every item of government expense should be closely scrutinized by the millions who pay the tax bills.

Good Taste By FRANCES MARREL

IMPORTANCE OF REFINEMENT

Two of the most important attributes toward social success are natural refinement and keen observation. Without these two assets, it is impossible to attain real culture. Sometimes, we do meet people—usually men however—who attain great success in professional and industrial fields despite a lack of culture and refinement.

These are referred to as "diamonds in the rough" which translated to its true meaning is "too bad! A smart man (or woman) but no poise, no manners, no breeding!"

How does one gain culture and refinement? If you have not had the advantage of good home training, made possible by being born on the right side of the railroad track, develop your own background, so to speak. Learn the simple rules of etiquette, table manners, general good behavior and avoid social pitfalls. Speak your own language correctly. Learn the invaluable law of self-control, respect for the opinions of others. See to it that you are always well-groomed and neat—that you never give offense in any way—read—listen to good music. In other words, educate yourself if you were unfortunate enough not to have been educated during childhood. Some of the greatest geniuses in the world have been self-made individuals, personally responsible for their own culture, attained "the hard way" after maturity. It can be done—with great effort.

Question: During the past few years, I have received from boys of my acquaintance birthday, Christmas and graduation gifts. Now I am engaged and am wondering if I should return these gifts which were given through friendship only with no thought of marriage.

Answer: No. Keep these gifts with a clear conscience! Anything thus presented to you belongs to you for life, unless coming from "Indian givers." Keep all these little trinkets as mementos of your girlhood. And in the dim, dark future, when, as an old lady, you go foraging through your attic, you will derive a great deal of amusement and pleasure from such dusty reminders of a popular and charming youth.

ROMANTIC NECKTIE
DENVER—Johnny Dunn, a clerk in the Denver police automobile theft bureau, has worn the same green necktie every St. Patrick's day for 38 years. The day he bought it, in 1910, Dunn got a cinder in his eye. Green necktie and all, he looked up a doctor. The nurse who assisted in tracking down the cinder became Mrs. Dunn.

FEDERAL BANK CALL
WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve board announced Friday that it has called on all state member banks to report their condition as of April 12.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN JUNIOR

HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Since the year of the beginning of classes in Ben Franklin Junior high school, there have been a total of 238 teachers in charge. Of this number, 189 have left the system, retired, or withdrawn to other schools. Forty-nine are still on the active roll, with forty-six actually teaching during the school year 1947-48.

In the twenty-six years since the school's founding, there have been but two principals, and only three head custodians. There have been only two office secretaries; but a total of seven clerks have worked in the office, in addition, since 1922.

The present faculty roll includes three teachers who have been with the school since the first year. One has been on the staff since the second year, 1923. Two have been present since 1924, two since 1925, two since 1926, one since 1927, and two since 1928. Thus, it is apparent in studying the record that thirteen teachers have been with the school for twenty years or more.

In any school, it is a stabilizing influence to have a number of teachers of maturity of background, judgment and experience. Franklin has such a group. A goodly portion of New Castle's present population has had this instruction at Ben Franklin.

IDENTIFICATION OF CALVES IMPORTANT

Dairymen are becoming more conscious of the need to identify properly young calves born in the herd.

One of the better methods of identification is with ear tags. These are available to all dairymen in dairy herd improvement association or artificial breeding groups.

Many D.H.I.A. members are interested in proven sire and herd analysis work. For this work D.H.I.A. and artificial breeding ear tags, registration numbers, and Bureau of Animal Industry tags are acceptable. Private tags and tattoo markings cannot be used on a nation-wide basis because of too much duplication, but may be used to advantage within an individual herd.

Regardless of the methods used, the calf identification must include the birth date and the identity of sire and dam, or the calf identification will not mean very much.

This is essential for herds which do D.H.I.A. testing work so that complete records can be kept. It is impossible to prove sires and trace cow families without proper identification of all animals. Artificial breeding herds must keep careful records to avoid inbreeding of animals.

DO NOT WEAN LITTLE PIGS TOO EARLY

The bigger the pig at weaning time, the more efficient use it makes of feed from then on. Pigs eight weeks or older at weaning gain more rapidly than pigs weaned earlier.

The breeding program usually determines the age for weaning. Ordinarily when two litters of pigs are raised, each litter can stay with the sow eight or nine weeks. If the sow is not re-bred, the pigs may stay with her 12 to 14 weeks, or until she can no longer nurse them.

Long nursing periods increase the income from the sow and produce stronger pigs. Too often, pigs are weaned at 4 to 5 weeks in the mistaken notion this is economical.

Hoffman Shoving Recovery Plans

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS)—Paul G. Hoffman, economic cooperation administrator, said Friday that his newly formed organization plans to "go forward in plenty of time" to keep supply lines to 16 Marshall-plan countries in operation.

Hoffman made the statement at a news conference announcing the appointment of Dennis A. Fitzgerald, veteran agriculture food authority, to head the CA's food division.

Gathering Speed Hoffman said that his organization at the present time is working slowly but will get into full operation when his top-flight assistants are appointed.

The former president of the Studebaker corporation said that he has submitted the names of several men to President Truman for the highly important job of deputy administrator and roving ambassador in Europe.

Thirteen-Year-Old Boy Is Held In Death Of Girl

NAPA, Calif., April 17.—(INS)—A 13-year-old Napa boy was held by police today for the murder of a six-year-old girl, Verna Sue Haskins, whose nude body was found in a creek that runs through the city.

Chief of Police Eugene C. Riordan said the boy, Richard Thompson, confessed that he struck the child, knocking her into the creek, and then held her head under the water until she drowned.

Chief Riordan said the boy admitted giving the little girl a ride on his bicycle as they left St. John's Lutheran school yesterday afternoon and quoted the boy as saying:

Held Her Under Water

"I rode the bike down under a bridge at Redwood creek. Verna started playing around and took off all her clothes and waded in the water.

"She made me mad and I hit her. When I get mad I don't know what I'm doing.

"Then I held her under the water to make her stop yelling and when she quit fighting back I let her go. She floated away."

Police found the body about 150 feet from the bridge.

Chief Riordan said the boy denied that he made any attempt to molest the child. A medical examination was to be made later to determine whether she had been criminally assaulted.

The boy is the adopted son of a Mare Island navy yard worker, and according to the father had never before been in trouble of any kind.

There will be no meeting of the Lions Club on Tuesday, because of the 25th Charter Anniversary Night and Tail Twister's Ball, which will take place on Wednesday evening in The Castleton, with festivities starting at 6:45 p.m. Every member should make a special effort to be present on this occasion.

(Fortieth of a Series)

SAMUEL H. RHOADS

One of New Castle's veteran railroad employees has retired. He is Samuel H. Rhoads, freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio offices in the city, who has concluded nearly 50 years of service with the system, a career that started June 10, 1898 in Wooster, Ohio, the place of his birth.

"Dusty," as he is affectionately known by his friends in the city, has been supervising agent of freight at the South Mill street offices since September of 1925. He came here from Warren, O., where he held a similar post after starting his railroad career in Wooster.

Samuel Rhoads was born in Wooster, April 28, 1878, the son of Samuel and Sarah Rhoads. His father was a merchant. Young Sam spent his boyhood in the Ohio town and was educated there. He has never held any other job than that of railroad.

"I can look back on half a century of service," he said, "and I know that I would not have enjoyed any other job as much as I have railroad."

Member of Masonic Order
Mr. Rhoads is a member of the Masonic Order and is past president of the Rotary club of New Castle. He is also a member of the Elks lodge and is on the board of the Y.M.C.A. of the city.

He has been active in community campaigns and drives for a number of years, representing the railroad division of many efforts.

The retired railroad lives alone in The Castleton hotel, a residence he has occupied since January of 1937 when his wife passed away. He was married to the former Laurene Menke of Canton, O., whom he wed in 1926. There were no children.

Asked how he will occupy himself now that he has retired, the sprightly B. and O. veteran smiled. "I really haven't given it much thought," he stated, "they say a railroad never really retires until he dies. I guess I'll have to get used to a different kind of life."

Mr. Rhoads is a rabid golf fan and plans to spend much of his time on the links this summer. He was a member of the Field Club until the war years. One of his chief relaxations is bridge, of which he is a keen student.

For the past ten years Mr. Rhoads has been president of the New Castle District of the Freight Agents Association, which position he relinquished when he retired from active service.

The retired freight agent has been succeeded by E. P. Harries of New York City.

Northwest Reports
Three-Eyed Cat,
Two-Nosed Bull

(By International News Service)
It doesn't take a hangover to see creatures with two noses and three eyes in the Pacific Northwest these days.

A kitten at Yakima, Wash., and a bull calf at Rainier, Ore., were born with two normal noses and three eyes this week.

The calf, owned by William Mauris, could blink its three eyes and bawl normally. But the extra optic in the center of its forehead is drying up.

The three-eyed kitten, one of four owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Poulin of Yakima, also is equipped with two tongues and two mouths, possibly for singing backward duets.

If so, the kit will need all its assumed 18 lives. It has been named "Double Trouble".

Eagles City-County Junior Champions

Score 37 To 34 Win Over Sno-Top Quint

The Eagles club juniors are the idols of the teen-age sports crowd today following their stunning 37 to 34 triumph over the Hoover Sno-Toppers last night in the championship game of the junior cage tourney.

Gus "Little Five" took runner-up honors as they went on a scoring rampage to smother the Thompson Drugs of New Wilmington, 57-23, in a surprisingly easy victory.

The main clash was a heart-stopper all the way, with a second period spurt causing the downfall of the Hoover passers.

Don Black and Wayne Fullerton, with 13 and 9 points in that order, sparked for the losers, but the Eagles, with Gray leading the attack and doing a great job of feeding to teammates Don Reed and Dick Hamilton, proved too much for the Toppers.

The lead see-sawed well into the second half until Gray dropped in three fast fielders and that was the deciding factor at the end of the half.

In the second half the Sno-Tops came out with a vengeance and pulled even in the final frame but didn't have the stamina to go to win. Don Black played a whale of a game for the losers in the final minutes.

Thompson Fall Apart
The Gus "Little Five" started out with such a rush that they upset the Thompsons right off the bat and they never recovered. Jimmy Jancone was brilliant for the winners with great shooting and ball-handling.

Following the games, Tourney Director Jimmy Dant handed out an impressive array of prizes. The champions' trophy and gold basketballs went to Eagle Coach Frank Reed, while the Hoover team received the runner-up cup and silver basketballs. Bronze basketballs went to the Gus Five and the Thompson Drugs.

Rea Sinks 30
Chuck Rea won the medal for making the most points in one game—30, with second honors going to Don Spears with 23. Don Black proved the best all-around scorer, dunking 61 markers in the tourney. Don Reed was second with 60. Black was also adjudged the most spectacular shotmaker and walked off with the most valuable player award.

"Bud" Mayberry of East Brook was chosen the most sportsman-like player, while the coolest under fire was Wayne Gray of the Eagles. The longest shot made in the tourney was the property of Tony Cialella. Tom Hutchinson of the Thompsons was named the second most valuable performer.

The following were named to

Same Old Leo—Flatbush Fireball Answers Scribes

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 17.—Leo Duocher vigorously denied today recent reports in some New York papers to the effect that:

- (1) He has become timid.
  - (2) That he is merely a yes man for Branch Rickey.
  - (3) That he is confused about his ball club.
- "If I've become shy and retiring," said the pilot of the Dodgers, "then the leopard sure can change his spots."
- "As for being a stooge for Branch Rickey, whoever said that should have heard me battling with him about Duain Sloat. That's the young lefthander we brought up from Texas."
- "I told Rickey that Sloat was going to stick with the club or we wouldn't play ball. That kid has what it takes. He's fast and he's got a knuckler and a hook that will make any hitter sit up and take notice."

This year six teams will pry off the lid on opening day, Monday.

In the American league, in addition to the clash between the New York Yankees and the Senators at Washington, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Red Sox will play two games, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, at Boston.

On Tuesday, the 10 remaining clubs will swing into action. In the National league Cincinnati will move over to St. Louis, Pittsburgh will return home to play Chicago's Cubs. Boston's Braves will invade Philadelphia to take on the Phillies, and Brooklyn's Dodgers will come to grips with the hated Giants at New York.

In the junior circuit the Chicago White Sox will entertain Detroit and the Cleveland Indians will be host to the St. Louis Browns. The Yankees and Senators will play the second game of their series, while the Red Sox and Athletics will take the day off.

BARBARA SCOTT MAY ANSWER CALL OF HOLLYWOOD SOON

OTTAWA, April 17.—(INS)—Friends reported Friday that Barbara Ann Scott, Olympic and world's figure skating champion, will turn professional within six weeks by accepting an offer from a Hollywood studio.

The petite ballerina of the ice is appearing tonight in the week in amateur exhibitions at the Minto Follies, an Ottawa skating club of which she is a member.

Other amateur engagements, it was said, would keep her occupied until late in May when her reported decision to emulate Sonja Henie in a movie career was presumably to be announced.

Blond Barbara Ann, now 20, offered no comment on the report.

Tommy Leach of the Jefferson Athletic club, plans his next amateur boxing showing for The Arena, May 5. He is now booking fighters. Joe Hartman, former pitcher, selected as commissioner of the City Baseball league, is principal of Arthur McGill school. They say that when a dog bites a boy that is not news. However, it is when a boy bites a dog. Neal Williams, outdoorsman, and an attaché of city hall, reports seeing a small boy, of Raymond street vicinity, playing with a puppy. The dog's squirming vexed the boy who bit the canine. United States Trotting Association has placed this column on their news release list, hence there'll be some trotting notes from time to time. One hundred cars were parked along Big Run the opening day of trout season, according to an observer. Wilbur Patterson has gone to the mountains to trout, hopeful the streams there are not high. He caught a 4½ brownie in the Slippery-Rock last year. Lawrence County Sportsman's Association will meet socially Tuesday night in the Ecclesian hall. State game commission has set November 1 as the beginning of the small game season, November 15 for the bear season and November 29, as the beginning of the deer season. The game control agency decided to continue bounty payments in an effort to eliminate predators. The bounty payments were extended one year to next May 31. They are: Fox, $4, for each gray or red and adult gray horned owl; $2 for adult goshawks and fledgling great horned owl; $1 for weasels and fledgling goshawks which have not left the nest. The commission plans a scientific and unprejudiced federal aid research project to determine effects of predators on game population. Some nice sized trout have been caught in Big Run. Bass were stocked in Hickory Creek, according to Harvey Bush, county commissioner. Johnny Simber 12½, young middleweight, who is winning consistently, if handled right, may make a name for himself. He's aggressive, can give and take a punch and is always in training.

Mrs. Donaldson Defends Duxpin Laurels Tonight

New Castle's Millie Donaldson is defending her bowling title in the Greater Pittsburgh Singles championship finals at Pittsburgh this evening. She took the trophy for the second time in 1947.

Mrs. Millie Donaldson lives at 305 Shaw street in this city. She led the Lady's City league with a 161 average this season. The attractive localite will face the toughest competition any defending champ ever had. Shooting for her crown will be such duckpin stars as the former titlist Peg Brown and Irene Remington, both of Pittsburgh. Adding to the array of outstanding title seekers will be Betty Coss, runner-up to Mrs. Donaldson when the local Queen took the trophy in 1942.

The local two-time winner, says she will try her best to bring the title back to New Castle once again. When she goes against the eleven confident qualifiers tonight, there is no one who knows better than Mrs. Donaldson the high calibre of the bowlers she will face.

The bowlofts will start at 6:30 this evening at the Forward Alleys, Squirrel Hill, Pittsburgh. The tournament will be the final round with eleven qualifiers and the defending champ.

Second Army Baseball Nine Seeking Games

Colleges and independent teams, wishing games, are asked to contact the commanding officer of the local Army recruiting station for arrangements.

During the 47 season the Second Army outfit beat some of the best teams in its area, including the Naval Academy nine. Two of last year's stars have been grabbed by major league clubs. Harold Daugherty has reported to the Detroit Tigers, and John Liptak, been signed by the Chicago Cubs and farmed out to Los Angeles.

Meyer Unveils Pirates Today

PITTSBURGH, April 17.—(INS)—The 1948 edition of the Pittsburgh Pirates will go on display before the hometown folk for the first time today, as the Bucs face the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition game.

It's a different Pirate team than the one that tied for seventh place last year the fans will see today. The manager, Bill Meyer, is new, three-fourths of the infield, two-thirds of the outfield, a number of pitchers and a catcher are new additions.

The team is building for the future, according to Meyer, and will rely on young men to carry the burden.

The Pirates open the season Monday at Cincinnati against the Reds.

Yankees Rated Slight Edge In American Loop

(Editor's Note: The following roundup, dealing with the American league, is the second of two articles previewing the major league baseball season, which opens next week.)

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 17.—It's the New York Yankees by a nose over the Boston Red Sox, followed (away back) by the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians.

That's a real early call, as seen from this corner, on the outcome of the American league pennant race this season.

The Yanks look something like a race horse who won his last start by 12 lengths (games in this case) but now is meeting a much improved rival.

That would be the Boston Red Sox, who have been spending money like a GI on his first furlough in a year in a desperate effort to get back on the gravy train. Among others, the Gold Sox have purchased shortstop Vern (Junior) Stephens and pitchers John Kinder and Jack Kramer, the old sailor who once cruised all the way from Camp Peary to St. Louis for a wartime World Series, and who heaves the ball over the grandstand when crossed up.

Getting No Younger
These lads, however, are getting no younger rapidly and may not be able to produce like champions from Boston's new pilot, Marjoe McCarthy, who dearly would love to beat out his old charges, the Yankees.

The Soxos undoubtedly will be improved, but they will have to be just that to a considerable degree to erase the margin of superiority which the Yanks held over them last year, when the Sox finished two games behind Detroit and 14 games behind New York.

Dave (Doc) Ferris, one of Boston's leading pitchers, seems to be back at tops despite earlier disquieting reports, and Mickey Harris also seems ready. But Tex Hughson is a question mark.

The Yanks, on the other hand, have two coking new pitchers in Ed Lopat and Red Emmer. Joe DiMaggio is in the best shape of his career. And the ailing Charley Keller seems to be pretty much of his old slugging self, a very important factor in the mind of Manager Bucky Harris.

Dont' Have Power
New York's power hasn't the voltage of the Red Sox and the pitching must take a back seat to Detroit's brilliant quintet of Hal Newhouser, Virgil Trucks, Freddie Hutchinson, Dizzy Trout and Art Houtteman, but the Yanks are unsurpassed in defensive skill.

As for Detroit, the Tigers have a leaky infield. And Dick Wakefield, the big bonus boy, seems to be slipping with the fans riding him and what not.

As for the Cleveland Indians, most of their pitchers have been battered from pillar to post by the New York Giants this spring, which doesn't look promising.

One will get you twenty-five if you like the Philadelphia Athletics. As for the remaining three clubs—the Washington Senators, Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns—President Will Harridge practically tagged them as clown outfits by tossing them out of the window when considering his league's pennant race.

LAFAYETTE WINS
EASTON, Pa., April 17.—(INS)—Lafayette college chalked up its third successive baseball win yesterday by beating Muhlenberg college, 10-0, in Easton.

ROD AND GUN CLUB MEETS
The Southside Rod and Gun club will have a meeting tonight at Pflaies Garage at 7:30 o'clock, on South Jefferson street, with Andrew Miraz president in charge.

Booster Banquet Success Assured

Upwards Of 700 Will Attend Testimonial Dinner At Cathedral April 21st

The good people of New Castle have responded again to a very worthy venture—the big testimonial banquet by the Boosters club for the New Castle "Chiefs" of the Mid-Atlantic league at the Cathedral Wednesday, April 21, at 7 p. m.

Members of the Booster club met at The Castleton hotel last night and a partial check on the ticket sales show that upwards of 700 will be present to honor the ball players and to hear Manager Billy Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates and the great Hans Wagner talk.

Gratifying Response
General Chairman Richard E. Rentz of the banquet committee is gratified at the fine response of the men and women of New Castle and vicinity. Rentz paid his committee a lot of praise for their untiring efforts.

Toastmaster Bill Francis was at the meeting last night and started getting his program together. A full hour of entertainment and entertainment will follow the banquet, it was indicated.

Ticket sales are being continued today, with the prospect of selling a few more. The Wimodaus ladies must be told Monday how many to prepare for.

General Manager George Smith of the New Castle club promised at the meeting last night to have all of the "Chiefs" present at the dinner and will introduce each one personally.

Pirate Officials Coming
In the Pittsburgh party will be Attorney Tom Johnson and other Pirate officials and owners.

Owing to a previous commitment in New York City, Albert B. "Happy" Chandler, has informed J. Preston Fishery of the program committee that he will be unable to be present, and sends his regrets.

The Erie team of the Mid-Atlantic loop will be represented by Fred L. Nash, he informed the locals today.

ALBERT JOSEPH LINCOLN GARFIELD "MIBS" CHAMPION

Albert Joseph of the fourth grade, age 10, defeated Romeo Pacelli in the final match at Lincoln-Garfield school by a score of 7-3, in the marble-shooting eliminations.

Folks are talking about the new Federal trucks and you have read of them of course. The word of mouth advertising has been good, the printed advertisements have been good, but have you seen one of the Federals yet?
If we might quote a colloquialism "you ain't seen nothin' yet". Federals are so much better than you have heard you really should take a look. Come over and take a look at the ones we have on display.
When you need a truck you'll want a Federal.

Game Commission Approves 58 New Farm-Game Units

HARRISBURG, April 17.—(INS)—The state game commission today announced approval of 58 new farm-game projects, extending its cooperative hunting program to 500,000 acres.

Commission President Ross L. Leffler reported the total acreage of the new projects could not be ascertained immediately.

The agency's program now embraces more than 320,000 acres in 95 projects covering 3,587 farms, he explained. Expansion of the farm-game program, considered by sportsmen to be the most important ever undertaken by the commission, will call for an expenditure of $500,000 this year.

Twenty-nine of the new projects will be located in southwestern Pennsylvania, Leffler said. Five each will be located in northwestern, central and southeastern areas, eight in southcentral and six in northeastern sections, he added.

More Territory

"The cooperative farm-game program is to provide more open hunting territory in agricultural sections near centers of large populations, to improve small-game hunting in general crop-farming territory and to help the landowner protect his property and livestock from careless and indifferent hunters," Leffler explained.

Under the program, farmers execute an agreement with the commission which places hunting rights for a group of farms totaling at least 1000 acres, under the commission's control for five years or more, he pointed out.

72 Drivers Enter Names For Speed Classic May 31

INDIANAPOLIS, April 17.—(INS)—The largest field in the history of the Indianapolis motor speedway, more than 72, will seek starting positions in the 32nd annual 500-mile race on May 31.

Wilbur Shaw, speedway president and general manager, said today that entry blanks received early today boosted the field to 72 and he is sure several nominations are still in the mail.

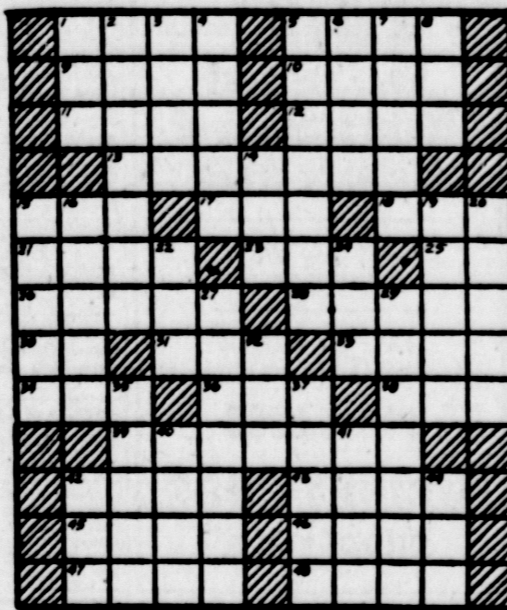

The largest entry previously was in 1931 when 72 car owners attempted to gain one of the 33 starting berths.

Four of today's 16 entries are brand new American-built cars, boosting the total of new cars in this year's race to 14.

No foreign drivers have been nominated to date, but seven foreign cars are on the official list.

State Capitol Tax Changes Are Facing Delays

Equalization Board Will Have No Chance To Start
Work Before Late Summer

OTHER NEWS OF STATE EVENTS

HARRISBURG, April 17.—(INS)—The tax equalization board will have no opportunity to start before late summer its property reassessment program designed to provide a yardstick for determining equitable state school subsidies. The board must depend upon county officials to provide information concerning present property assessments on which school boards base subsidy applications and reports of property transfers which will reveal true market values. So far only a handful of reports has trickled into headquarters. A progress report must be made to the governor in July. The purpose of the board created by the general assembly last year, is to establish a standard method of determining revenue-raising capacities of school districts rather than depending on county assessments and hit and miss reports to show the districts' financial picture. The market value of property will be used to prevent districts from deliberately underestimating possible tax collections in order to merit larger subsidies.

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner may cast his lot with the Republican party after the primary election. The Democratic fiscal officer may quit from his department all jobholders owing allegiance to the organization on which he turned his back last month. First indication that he would wreak vengeance for party rejection of his candidate for state treasurer was the resignation as state committee secretary of Jackson Scarl, assistant director of disbursements for his department. Party Chairman J. Warren Mickel relinquished a possible second term to hold his job as investigator with Wagner.

Liquor Sale Hours Same As Community

HARRISBURG, April 17.—(INS)—The State Liquor Control Board said today that taprooms and state stores will observe the hours of communities in which they are located when daylight savings becomes effective after April 25. Sales must cease, except in clubs, at 12 o'clock midnight and 2 a. m. on weekdays "of the time in effect in the community," the board reported.

association, and possibly the Pennsylvania Hotels associations, can be expected to burst out in a rash of opposition to the eastward extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike from Middlesex to King of Prussia. The associations long have complained that the original section of the Turnpike, from Middlesex to Irwin, channeled much traffic through Pennsylvania and away from tourist facilities on major public highways. Engineers plotting the extension have not publicly estimated the cost of the eastward extension but it probably will exceed the $71,000,000 spent for the Middlesex-Irwin section because of inflated post-war labor and material prices.

Frank Thompson, one of GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor's lieutenants in Harrisburg, stopped in the state capitol newsroom to berate jovially some of his reporter-friends and convulsed them with the observation that he once knew a lawyer "so anxious to don the comber robes of a judge that he wore a black nightgown to bed."

The Pennsylvania Aeronautics commission has reported the favorable spring weather enabled contractors to get an early start on improving airports at Franklin, Eminton, Beaver Falls, Greater Pittsburgh, Indiana, Somerset, Lock Haven, Williamsport, Eagles Mere, Hazleton and Lancaster. The projects are locally sponsored in cooperation with state and federal governments.

Around Hollywood
By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
HOLLYWOOD, April 17.—Claude Rains, distinguished British-born actor, bristled with anger today over the way civilization takes unfair pokes at Hollywood. He thinks the rest of the world is belting the movies below the belt. Rains, an eminent Londoner who divides his cinematic chores between his home town and southern California and Bucks County, Pa., was ready to blow his top about Hollywood's critics. He snorted: "Lambasting Hollywood has become an accepted social tactic. Deriding the picture industry is a favorite pastime of supposedly sophisticated snobs."
The usually easy-going gent took a big breath and added: "Perhaps it isn't so noticeable right in Hollywood. But drive 100 miles from town you'll see what I mean."
"People think Hollywood is ridden by a caste system. They think the town is filled with mink-lined swimming pools which are brimming over with dry martinis instead of water."
Should Call Bluff
"They think stars stay up all night running around the cafe circuit. They think the divorce rate is appalling—when actually it is lower than most other metropolitan centers."
Rains said it was time somebody called the critics' bluff—and he was just the guy to do it. He hoisted his tenor another key: "I resent the unjustified lies repeated so often that many folks accept them as truth."
Not All-Night Town
"There is a myth that Hollywood is an all-night town. Just ask any nightclub owner. He'll tell you differently. We can't support more than two or three good cabarets—and they are patronized mainly by wide-eyed tourists."
"And there is the hackneyed accusation that producers are screwballs addicted to delusions of grandeur who shut themselves up in gold-lined ivory towers."
Learned Men
"This is nonsense. Most of our producers are former writers or fellows who have worked their way up from the cellar. They are not illiterate. I know four producers who own Phi Beta Kappa Keys."
Rains pointed to Richard Malbaum, a Phi Beta who wrote and produced the actor's current starer, "Abigail, Dear Heart," at Paramount.
"Actors lead a more exemplary life than most other folks. They have to. They are always in the spotlight," Rains said.
